What is the Event Design?

- Panel Discussion(s) allow us to access resource people who will discuss their lessons learned from aligning courses, integrating curriculum, and working with state, federal and college-based support services.
- Learning Communities will enhance the integration of individual knowledge, provide a broad framework for moving forward, and give an opportunity to apply learning and experience to teach others.
- Program Debrief and Project Reports will give you an opportunity to review what good work is currently being done throughout the region and provide an occasion for feedback and follow-up.

College instructional and counseling faculty should contact their local site coordinator for stipend information.
